Today's Readings

First Reading — All peoples called by God will receive the gift of the Spirit if they repent and are baptized (Acts 2:14a, 36-41).

Psalm — The Lord is my shepherd; there is nothing I shall want (Psalm 23).

Second Reading — Once we were like straying sheep; but now we have been returned to the shepherd, our guardian (1 Peter 2:20b-25).

Gospel — The shepherd leads the sheep out into pastures of abundant life (John 10:1-10).

IN NEED OF A SHEPHERD

For a while it was very fashionable to own pigs as pets. The publicity surrounding these creatures informed us that they were—contrary to their popular image—very clean animals, and also quite smart. Sad to say, sheep will most likely never enjoy this sort of domestic vogue. They are neither clean nor smart and are largely defenseless when left on their own, even in large numbers. The biblical image of us as the flock of sheep is not a particularly flattering one. Sheep without a shepherd are truly sad, because they most likely will perish either from their inability to fend for themselves or from their lack of defenses against predators. Placing ourselves in the heart of this unflattering image can reinforce our faith. Until we come to a profound realization of how much we need a shepherd, we cannot appreciate how deeply blessed we are to have been given a Shepherd, one who laid down his life for us and was raised to life eternal in the Spirit, so he might guide us and we might follow him in faith forever. © Copyright, J. The Week Ahead

The Easter season is filled with celebrations: Baptisms, First Communions, and Confirmations especially; but, we also celebrate other events: weddings, Mother's Day and graduations! So, it's a time to rejoice and be glad – that's the Easter theme!

I want to take this time to congratulate those in our parish who have already and are going to receive the "Easter Sacraments" or the "Sacraments of Initiation" – again, Baptism, Confirmation and First Communion. For our children and teenagers receiving these sacraments, it has been a two-year process. Much thanks is due to the parents and other family members who have worked with these young people to get them to classes, retreats, special programs, rehearsals and more – in addition to helping them with certain projects. Of course, thanks to the children and teens themselves who have been working so hard over those two years to get ready for the reception of First Communion and Confirmation; I'm sure there were times when you didn't want to attend a certain activity, but did so (maybe with a little parental coercion!) We congratulate you and are proud of you.

Finally and importantly, thanks to those on our staff who dedicate much of their time and energy to making all this happen: Beth Thompson for her work with adults in the RCIA process and with infants and their parents and godparents for Baptisms and with younger children and parents for First Communions; Debbie Hasterok for her work with junior high students receiving full initiation or First Communion; Jason Ealy for his work with high school teens receiving full initiation, First Communion and Confirmation; and, of course, Robyn Runco (the secretary for Beth, Debbie and Jason) for all her work in correspondence, record keeping, making certificates, copying and so much more!

Note from Bishop Pepe

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

The Catholic Communication Campaign (CCC) supports Catholic media projects for the radio, television, Internet, and print in our diocese and all over the United States.

In today's world, it is essential for the Catholic voice to be where the people are: whether that is sharing on social networking sites, listening to MP3 players, or reading a newspaper. For the faithful or those searching for faith, CCC provides rich content, bringing the gospel message one page, click, or download at a time. Half of all monies collected stay in our diocese to support our local communications efforts.

This collection also benefits The Catholic University of America, which is the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States. At every level, the university is dedicated to the advancement of learning and particularly to the development of knowledge to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world.

For more information on the important work of the Catholic Communication Campaign, please visit: www.usccb.org/nationalcollections and for further information on The Catholic University of America visit: www.cua.edu.

Assuring you of my prayers, I remain

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Most Reverend Joseph A. Pepe, D.D., J.C.D.
