DIRECTION

Isaiah tells us something that we already know, and yet seem to forget every now and then. He tells us, essentially, that God is God and we are not. When we're confused and troubled and can't figure everything out, it might be wise to recall Isaiah speaking on the Lord's behalf and explaining that God—who is on a much more, well, Godly wavelength than we are—moves in ways we can't even imagine.

Saint Paul, by comparison, has everything figured out. Kind of. At least he understands his calling in life—to magnify Christ in everything he does. That should give all of us the direction we need. Jesus gives us direction, too, explaining to us once again in the parable of the workers in the vineyard that the last will be first, and the first, last.

DIRECCIÓN

Los últimos serán los primeros y los primeros serán los últimos

Isaías nos dice algo que ya sabemos, pero que parecemos olvidar de tanto en tanto. Nos dice, en esencia, que Dios es Dios y nosotros no lo somos. Cuando estamos confundidos, llenos de problemas y no podemos solucionarlo todo, tal vez sea sabio recordar a Isaías (alguien que está más en la sintonía divina que nosotros) hablando en nombre del Señor y explicando que Dios se mueve de maneras que ni siquiera podemos imaginar.

En comparación, san Pablo lo ha resuelto todo. Casi todo. Cuando menos entiende su llamado en esta vida: dar gloria a Cristo en todo lo que hace. Esto debería marcar el rumbo para nosotros. Jesús también nos marca el camino, explicándonos una vez más en la parábola de los viñadores que los últimos serán los primeros, y que los primeros serán los últimos.

The Week Ahead

Today is the last of 3 special inserts about the changes in the Mass. These changes will become official on the First Sunday of Advent, November 27, 2011.

We will begin to 'practice' these changes over the next several months. In fact, some of the changes in music have begun already. It may not be immediately obvious as we sing some of the Mass parts – like the "Glory to God" or the "Holy, Holy, Holy". Often when a spoken response is set to music, there is some liberty to change the wording or phrasing to make it more musically pleasant and "singable". Parishes have permission to begin using the new musical settings in September in order to give the congregations a few months "prep" time so that by Advent we can sing well the new parts of the Mass.

Although we cannot "officially" use the spoken parts until that First Sunday of Advent, it will be necessary to "practice" them nevertheless. We will do so over the next several months – during the announcement time, that is, at the end of the Mass. At first, it may seem difficult to change "old" habits; for, in fact, we have been using these prayers and responses for over 40 years.

There are several reasons to have such a change: 1) the first English translation was as not as faithful to the "official" Latin text as it should/could have been. Other modern languages were more faithful. For example, the Latin response is "Et cum spiritu tuo" which was translated in English to "And also with you"; it will now be rendered: "And with your spirit". In Spanish, the translation has always been more accurate with: "Y con tu espíritu".

2) the new translation uses more direct Scripture quotes; for example, the Communion response will be "Lord, I am not worthy that you should enter under my roof, but only say the word and my soul shall be healed." This is a direct quote from the centurion who told Jesus that he did not have to come to his home to heal his servant (Luke 7:6).

I'm looking forward to this opportunity to study anew our liturgy. Often when we have done something so routinely for so long, we take its beauty and meaning for granted; so this new translation is a real gift to us. Let us welcome it.

LITURGY CORNER

THE NEW ROMAN MISSAL

Over the past two weeks we have been introduced to the concept of change in the liturgy as well as given some explanation as to the “why” and “how”. The bulletin insert this week gives the actual revised texts for the peoples’ responses as well as the wording we use now, so you can see the changes for yourself.

You will notice some of the changes are minor and some more major. Over the next few months prior to November 26/27th, we invite you to read over the revised responses and prayers. Sit with them in prayer and let yourself be opened to the Holy Spirit. Let the words become more a part of you, a part of your prayer at mass.

All of us will no doubt stumble and have to use the worship aid at mass for several weeks or perhaps months until we learn the revised texts, but be assured that just as each of us learned the responses and prayers before, we will learn them again. They will become second nature to us as the liturgy will hopefully become a source of new life and a renewed spiritual experience for us.

PASTORAL COUNCIL CORNER

Our Welcome Center is up and running as of last weekend. There will be someone there after each of the Masses every weekend to answer any questions you may have. We will also have brochures available that include information about all we have to offer here at CTK!

Catechesis of the Good Shepherd

This is a program for children ages 3-6 and 6-9. There are two levels.

In the Atrium we learn about the Bible and Liturgy.

Peering into the Atrium, you may see a room that looks like a playroom . . . we do not play . . . we work. Montessori tells us to feed the mind and the eye and the hand will absorb.

Creating the time and space where the child can come to God by themselves.

Exploring Explore!

We continue our "exploration!" . . . Our exciting program will involve your children in a variety of experiences which differ each week! There are FOUR main focus areas: Prayer, Education, Outreach, and Social. This year, we focus on the Liturgical Year, and so the Prayer and Education sessions will help students understand the Liturgy (Mass) and the beautiful rituals within the Liturgical seasons . . . Advent/Christmas, Lent/Easter and Ordinary time. Generally, an Education session on a specific season will be followed by a Prayer experience based on that same season. For example, students will learn about Advent one week, and experience an Advent prayer the following week, to further enhance their understanding and appreciation of that beautiful season. Next up . . . Outreach and Second Sundays! Stay tuned!

Here's how to register:

Monday through Thursday 8:00 am to 4:00 pm and Friday 8:00 am to 12:00 pm in the Religious Education office of our Activity Center.
